LIFE-AND-DEATH STRUGGLE OF UNION.

Every Employee of Steel Trust in Sympathy With Strike to be Called Out Within a Week.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4.—“Within a week every union man and every union man at heart in the employ of the United States Steel Corporation will be asked to join in the strike now being waged by the Amalgamated Association. We must settle whether unionism is to stand or fall.

“There will be no more conference with the United States Steel Corporation unless the meeting is asked for by the officials of that corporation. The Amalgamated Association will not ask a peace meeting.”

These and several other significant statements were made tonight by President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, upon his return from the fruitless conference with J. Pierpont Morgan and others in New York.

It is now a fight to a finish between the great billion-dollar steel trust and organized labor. Shaffer says he is ready to employ every peaceable means within the power of man to win a victory. No quarter is to be given, and none will be requested. The entire management of the battle has been placed in the hands of President Shaffer. He has absolute power to call out every man who is connected with the organization, and he intends to do it. He is satisfied with the progress of the fight to date. He finds that none of his battle lines have been broken. Promise is made by Shaffer that the trust will find the Amalgamated Association strong in many of its mills.

SHAFFER ANSWERS QUERIES.

Shaffer, Secretary Williams, B. I. Davis, M. F. Tighe and John Chappelle of Wellsville came in from New York this evening. The president and his advisers did not appear to be the least cast down.

“There is not much that I can say about the situation at present,” said Shaffer.

“Will there be a meeting of the advisory board tonight to order a general strike?” was asked.

“No, I always endeavor to prevent Sunday meetings when I can. We held none on the train today,” was the reply.

“Will there be a meeting tomorrow?”

“None is needed. The fact of the matter is, we held one in New York last evening.”

“Was there any action taken at that meeting about calling out all of the men in the employ of the United States Steel Corporation?”

“I was given full authority to act. The meeting empowered me to issue a call whenever in my judgment I thought it time to act.”

“When will that call be issued?”

“The order likely to go out tonight.”

“I hardly think so. I am of the opinion that I could not prepare myself to issue the order tonight.”

“Will you do anything in the matter this evening?”

“I will not. I am going home to rest, and will wait until tomorrow to resume the care of my position.”

“Cannot you fix some definite date when the order will be issued?”

“You can say that within a week every union man and every union man at heart in the employ of the United States Steel Corporation will be requested by me to join the Amalgamated Association in winning this strike.”

“Do you think you will be able to close all of the mills of the steel trust?”

“I am of the opinion that every one of them can be closed. We have some great surprises in store for the trust. We have been organized in some of our mills that they never dreamed could be touched. We have the sympathy of the workmen, and they will not throw any straw in the way of our victory.”

Shaffer said that the stories that Morgan had been ugly during the conference Saturday were untrue. He said the gentleman had been courteous and businesslike throughout the entire meeting, and if he had lost his temper it was after the adjournment of the gathering.

“Not in the least. The negroes of the South are thoroughly organized. We have not been overlooking that detail. They make the best kind of union men. The 200 colored men brought from the South to assist in starting the plant of the Lathrop Steel Company in Chicago, were all members of the union. When they discovered what was wanted of them they returned to their homes.”

Reverting to the failure of the strike settlement, Shaffer said: “No explanation was offered by the company for the refusal to grant any terms for the settlement of the strike in any form. They seem to have made up their minds suddenly to give no consideration to the men, and would not vary from their determination.”

“Don't blame Mr. Morgan for all this,” said Shaffer. “Mr. Morgan knows absolutely nothing about the conditions of the mills except as he is told by others. He has their word, and is guided by them entirely. I believe that Mr. Morgan is a fair-minded man, and is only acting on his own judgment based on information of others whom he looks to. I am aware that there is a hidden influence in the corporation of the United States Steel Corporation, that has been working against us. What I mean is that it is hidden to the public. We are fully aware of the location of our enemies. We went to New York wanting peace. We did everything that we could to bring about peace honorably. In every effort we failed. We can do no more than fight for existence until either the trust asks for another conference, or we are extirpated.”

Throughout the interview, President Shaffer indicated that the officials of the Amalgamated Association had their plans for this struggle well in hand, and that arrangements for the battle are complete and on systematic ideas. He declined to say whether the American Federation of Labor would assist the Amalgamated Association in this struggle, or tell anything about what support the organization would receive from other sources.

Secretary Williams was not disposed to discuss the situation at such great length as his chief. He had, however, this to say: “All possibility of settlement of this difficult matter to be at an end. We carefully considered the proposition of the trust. It was decided that the terms were such that we could not accept. To accept would have meant practically the disruption of our organization. We could not have agreed and returned to face the men we represented.”

“It is now a case of fight. I think the contest will be the greatest industrial battle that the world has ever known. I am thoroughly convinced we will win the victory.”

“As anxious as the members of the Executive Board of the Amalgamated Association were to settle the steel workers' strike, their refusal to accept the terms of Morgan was the only alternative left them at the last moment. For the association side to have agreed to the proposition would have meant the desertion of thousands of workmen who were employed in them, and who organized and came out on strike since the trouble began. To have deserted these men now would have been the deathblow of the organization, and it would have had in dishonor. To fight the trust in an honorable battle, with a good chance to win, means at least a chance for life, but if beaten, a demise of the Amalgamated Association with honor.”

This was the explanation of Vice-President David Reese of the Amalgamated Association, who returned from New York tonight, after attending a conference there with the officials of the United States Steel Corporation.

As to the agreement which President Shaffer is alleged to have signed with Morgan, and which it was charged he had failed to keep, Reese said that it had been proved conclusively that Shaffer had done all that he agreed to do. The members of the board are united in all things and they have no internal troubles, as have been alleged.

DIVIDING THE MILLS.

This proposition of Morgan has been discussed by the members in a free and dispassionate manner. It was agreed that a settlement of the strike was preferable to a long and bitter contest, and the board was willing to concede all that they could in an honorable manner. They were willing to accept the proposition that the trust retain as non-union the Old Meadow and Saltburg mills at the time of the conference in the Lincoln Hotel, and that they could not desert Wellsville, McKeesport and such other mills as they knew were organized to a man. The manufacturers were willing to give the Amalgamated Association the Wellsville, McKeesport, Saltburg and Old Meadow mills at the Lincoln Hotel conference, but they would not consent to any more. Had they added the Lindsay, McCutcheon and the Painton mills of the hoop combine, the strike would never have gone any further.

Since then the Amalgamated Association has organized and gotten all the men in the hoop combine, with the exception of 1700. These men have shown their desire to join the Amalgamated Association, and the trust officials said they would not interfere with their men if they wanted to join the organization. It was proved by the organization that the men did want to join, and the executive board took the officials of the trust at their word, and offered to compromise on the scale being signed for all mills that were known to be fully organized. The proposition was declined without any explanation from the officials.

Concerning the actual strike status in this city there seems to be little or no change. The mills on strike are still idle, with no indications of an attempt by the combine to start any of the plants. No fires are being started, and the only evidence of work about the plants is a few men making necessary repairs. There does not seem to be any concern among the strikers at the failure of the late conference, and all seem to believe that the men will stand by the association to the end.

A sample of the condition of the men is that at Lindsay mill, one of the plants which has caused much of the discussion between the two sides. It was learned today that not a man among the strikers who want to work is idle. Out of the 500 men at this place, not more than 100 are out of work. They have secured employment in the numerous independent plants. Those who are idle are enjoying a much-needed vacation.

When the general strike order is issued, among the first to go out will be the Amalgamated men at the Republic Iron Works on the South side. This mill is a branch of the National Tube Company, which has plants all over the country. The skilled men at the Republic mill are said to be well organized.

REPORT FROM MCKEESPORT.

From McKeesport this announcement is made tonight: “The Amalgamated Association is rapidly gaining strength in McKeesport, and it is estimated that they added at least 200 new members to its ranks at two meetings held this afternoon. The meeting of the national lodge consisting of employees of the Boston Iron and Steel Works, was largely attended, and although no definite statement was given out in regard to the number of new members added to the lodge, the conservative estimate is placed at 100, while others claim nearly double this number were added to the lodge.”

The members of the lodge claim they now have the entire Boston mill organized, with the exception of two men, and these latter positively refuse to have anything to do with the organization. Union Lodge, composed of employees of the National Rolling Mill, at its meeting, secured, it is rumored, 100 new members. The strikers last night were claiming that everything was coming their way, and that if a general strike order is issued, the National Tube Company will be unable to turn a wheel, and that they would have between 8000 and 10,000 men out. The tube workers are organized by the American Federation of Labor, which organization will readily support the call of the Amalgamated Association. The business men of McKeesport are greatly depressed by the situation, and they fear that if a general order is issued from strike headquarters, their business will be nearly ruined, at least, for the time being, as about 15,000 men would be idle.”

REPORT FROM WELLSVILLE.

The report from Wellsville, O., says: “The strikers are in a very excited mood tonight. The arrest of eight men, and the fact that warrants are in the possession of the police for nine more, who are at present in the camps across the river in West Virginia, has put them on anything but an amicable frame of mind toward the authorities and the steel company. Four of the strikers are still in jail.”

“There is a feeling of unrest among the operative potters of East Liverpool and Wellsville, and the owners of the plants are fearful lest they come out in sympathy with the steel workers. There are 900 operatives in the pottery in the two towns. The railroad brakemen on the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh division will hold a meeting Tuesday to map out a course of action. They are hesitating in working with the strikers, and may decide to come out in sympathy.”

MILITARY ORGANIZATION.

At Wheeling, W. Va., the organization of the first military company by a labor organization was put under way last night by Crescent Lodge, Amalgamated Association, and today so popular is the plan that the members of the labor unions by the hundreds are discussing it favorably, and the indications are that a very large percentage of Wheeling's labor will soon be under military discipline.

The two full companies formed in Crescent Lodge will not be in any way controlled by the steel company, but as independent as the secret and religious organizations. Their officers will be empowered to order action, but only in the line of self-defense, or in the defense of the property of their employers, who are endangered by mobs. Their constitution declares that their interests and those of their employers are identical. Only when property is endangered will they act.

The Amalgamated Association is ready to close all trust mills on a strike order. Workers in independent mills have pledged 20 per cent. of all earnings to the strike fund, and Crescent Lodge has resolved to give half, if the national board can use it. There are 300 men in the independent mills. Business is already seriously affected, workmen generally making preparations for a long siege. The general

Collision of the Pan-American Special Train and Fatal Effect.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SALT LAKE (Utah) August 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Engineer McCartney of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad returned home from Clover Valley Junction this morning, bringing the latest news from that section. He said tonight that there have been very heavy rains there in the past few days, a fact that will greatly facilitate grading operations. According to his report, the opposing forces are considerably further apart than for some time past. He informed Senator Kearns today that the Oregon Short Line grades will make less rapid progress than heretofore, and that the San Pedro line's work is being prosecuted with all possible vigor. On the question of a possible conflict, he remained discreetly silent.

Atty. Whittemore will leave for Elk tomorrow morning, to argue the title of the San Pedro's tax title to the seventy miles of grade below Uvada. The case comes up Tuesday before Judge Talbot.

PAN-AMERICAN SHAPUP.

SPECIAL MEETINGS REGULAR. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) LOCKPORT (N. Y.) Aug. 4.—A Pan-American special, heavily loaded, and a regular, collided a few miles east of this city early this morning, on the New York, Erie and Western line. The special, carrying George Webb, trainman, was killed and a fireman was severely injured. The passengers of both trains were thrown into a panic by the shock, but none was seriously injured. A mistake in carrying out meetings caused the collision.

YERKES'S DILEMMA.

ELECTRIC TRACTION SYSTEM. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says that the dispute between Yerkes and the Metropolitan Railway Company is the subject of much speculation and railroad circles. The position at present is a very peculiar one, as the Metropolitan and district underground companies are practically committed to different systems of electric traction, and it is essential that the New York, Erie and Western line, which is thirteen miles long and is partly owned by each company, should be worked by one method.

Yerkes objects to the Gas system which is favored by the Metropolitan directors, and it seems that in the circumstances, that the Board of Trade must decide as to the system of electric traction to be adopted by both companies.

NEW YORK TO BOSTON.

LONG THROUGH TROLLEY LINE. (BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Steps have just been taken to build a through trolley line from this city to Boston. The first step was the foundation at White Plains, N. Y., of the New York & Stamford Railway Company, which is up by the consolidation of the Larchmont and Port Chester Electric Companies, now operating a trolley system from Larchmont to Port Chester. The company is now building a road to Greenwich, and as soon as the line is completed, the road will be extended to Stamford and to Boston.

The application of the New York and Stamford Railroad Company for the right of way for an electric railway with the terminal in Boston is expected to come up today before the New York State Railroad Commission.

SEVENTH NATIONAL BANK.

Federal Grand Jury Will Announce Its Action Today and the Directors May Also Decide Their Course. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The announcement of action of the Federal grand jury in the case of the Seventh National Bank officials is expected tomorrow. It is expected the directors of the institution will have decided either on a plan of reorganization, or that it is inadvisable to reopen the bank.

What their action will be is as uncertain as what the grand jury will do regarding the prosecution. Until some decision is made in this respect, the Comptroller of the Currency is making no move to recover for depositors the $1,253,000 of the bank's assets now held by President Thomas and Edwin Gould.

Says He Doesn't Uphold Slavery—Ready to Take Down His Gun.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Aug. 4.—A special to the Sentinel from Marinette, Wis., says that United States Senator Tillman of South Carolina addressed a large audience there on the race question from a southern standpoint. One of the features of his remarks was a plea in justification of lynching.

"In Wisconsin, you have 5000 black men," said he. "Why don't you try the lynching process and exterminate them by intermarriage? The idea is to get rid of the devil, and the 'niggers' are not fit to vote. Come what may, the white people of the South will govern their own country."

"I do not want to uphold slavery," he continued. "I thank God there are no slaves today under the Stars and Stripes."

Tillman made an eloquent plea in justification of lynching, saying that southern women could not be brought into contact with the negro without degradation before a jury for the purpose of convicting a beast. His reference to the equality of the southern women could not be brought into contact with the negro without degradation before a jury for the purpose of convicting a beast. COLONIAL JUDICIARY.

Chamberlain Working on Scheme to Have Colonies Represented in a Committee of the Privy Council.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.)

Before the rising of Parliament, Chamberlain will, it is expected, give the House of Commons some information with regard to a scheme which he has been under consideration for some time for the reconstruction of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. The Colonial Secretary has, with the assistance of the representatives of self-governing colonies, completed a draft of the scheme, but up to the present time no particulars of it have been published.

It is understood, however, that as the result of their joint labors, a scheme has been prepared which reserves to the head of the principal colonial jurisdiction the right to sit as judge of the Supreme Court of the empire, and orders the appointment of several of the most eminent judges from Canada, Australia and India to act as permanent members of the Judicial Committee in London.

CURSING THE FOREIGNERS.

Peking Populace up to Its Old Tricks.

Legation Defenses Said to be Feeble.

Bricks Are Used to Comfort Chinese Pride—Hostility to Italians.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) PEKING, Aug. 4.—(By Asiatic Cable.) American and European residents here are complaining that the Peking populace is constantly becoming more unfriendly, and that as the allied troops depart, the Chinese resume their old habits of jostling and cursing foreigners in the streets.

The legation defenses are now approaching completion. German speaking, they consist of brick walls from 15 to 20 feet high, and from 3 to 4 feet thick, loop-holed for rifles.

The ministers of the powers ignored the plan for a uniform system of defenses submitted by the general, and consequently the governments are working independently.

It is the policy of the ministers to avoid conspicuous works of defense, lest they prove an irritant, provoking, instead of preventing, hostilities. Most of the engineers have recommended stronger defenses than the ministers will sanction. Maj. Edgar Robinson of the Ninth Infantry, who commands the United States legation guard, has written to Rockhill to protest against what he calls the "defenseless position of our legation," reporting that it is liable to attack on four sides. Rockhill has replied that it is not intended to maintain a fortress, but merely a wall for protection against unexpected mob violence.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) MANILA, Aug. 4.—(By Manila Cable.) The towns of Calapan, Nuljan and Polo, on the northeast coast of Mindoro, were occupied by a battalion of the Thirtieth Infantry and Macabebe scouts, after a slight resistance. The insurgents, numbering 250, fled into the interior. Their commander, Howard, who is a deserter, is hiding in the mountains, and the Americans are in pursuit.

Adj.-Gen. Corbin, who has returned to Manila after an eleven days' tour of the islands, including a visit to the Sultan of Jolo, with whom he exchanged presents, says:

Kaiser is Hastily Summoned.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) HOMBURG, Aug. 4.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Emperor, Crown Prince Frederick William, Prince Alfred Frederick and Prince August William arrived at Homburg, where the Dowager Empress Frederick is lying dangerously ill, at a late hour tonight. Other royal personages who have arrived are Prince Adolph of Schaumburg-Lippe, Prince and Princess of Greece, Emperor William and his family. The Emperor is expected there at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Prof. Renvers, the specialist, wired His Majesty to come in all haste. The following bulletin concerning the condition of the patient was issued during the afternoon:

"The external disease from which Her Majesty is suffering and which for years has been slowly increasing, has in the course of the last few weeks extended to the internal organs. Her Majesty's strength is diminishing rapidly. She is conscious, and at the present without pain."

Poss of Mabo People Surrounds His House After He Had Killed a 'Hydian' and Wounded Two Other Men—Colorado Tragedy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) MOSCOW (Idaho) Aug. 4.—Dr. W. W. Watkins was shot and instantly killed, while riding in his buggy in the streets of Moscow, George Creighton, a prominent merchant, was shot through the arm, and Deputy Sheriff Cool was shot in the shoulder and the thigh. All happened about 8:30 o'clock this morning, and was the work of William Steffen, a resident of Moscow, who is believed to have become suddenly insane.

After shooting Creighton, Steffen rode rapidly east for half a mile, then made a circle back into the city, riding to the residence of Deputy Charles Jones. Jones was on the back step, pumping water. Steffen called out: "The law is here! The law is here!" He asked for a drink. When the water was brought, Steffen got off the horse and drank deeply. He said in an excited way:

"What is the matter with folks. I understand a warrant has been issued for my arrest."

Jones told him the Sheriff had no warrant and wanted to know what offense was charged. Steffen said:

"They've put the warrant in the hands of Marshal Langdon, but he won't get nearer than a Winchester rifle will shoot." Then he began to talk wildly.

HOSTILITY TO ITALY.

CHE KIANG IN AGGRESSION.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SHANGHAI, August 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The movement of Italian warships in San Mun Bay, province of Che Kiang, continue to afford ground for speculation regarding their intentions. The provincial authorities made extensive preparations to oppose any landing party, and they have raised $50,000 for the purpose. If Italy presses the claim to the extent of a hostile demonstration, the consequence would be disastrous to the general peace, and would give rise to a movement like that of the Boxers.

Peace is especially important at the present time, when the province of Che Kiang is suffering from floods such as have not occurred in a hundred years.

CHANDLER AND EVANS.

Secretary Long Not Aware that an Inquiry or Investigation Has Been Called For—The Schley Case.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) BOSTON, Aug. 4.—"I am not aware of any investigation being made by the Navy Department into the case of Secretary Long," said Secretary of the Navy John D. Long at Hingham today, to a Journal reporter, when asked about the Washington report that former Secretary William E. Chandler had much to say about the case of Admiral Robley D. Evans.

"The only thing I remember concerning the matter," continued Secretary Long, "is that Mr. Chandler wrote to me about the case of Evans. His book was published, and asked for copies of papers and documents relating to the case. I sent him a letter to me in which he gave me the facts of the case. I have not heard from him since."

HUMANE PRINCIPLES.

GEN. GRANT'S HOPEFUL VIEW.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Vienna correspondent of the Times telegraphed at length an interview he has had with Gen. Frederick D. Grant of the United States army, who is now in Vienna on his way from Russia, where he visited his daughter.

"Gen. Grant takes a hopeful view of the speedy pacification," says the correspondent, "although he has no question in his opinion that the humane principles now governing the conduct of the military operations greatly increase the difficulties of suppressing guerrilla warfare."

Boats Sinks to the Bottom—Rubber Breaks Its Weapon and is Hauled Aboard Sloop.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) Aug. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Gloucester sloop Klondike, Capt. Antonio F. Cunha, yesterday sighted a monster swordfish lying on the surface of the water thirty-five miles southwest of New Bedford. The sloop was worked up into it to the big fish and a harpoon thrown into it from the "pulpit" on the bowsprit. The throw was not a good one, and Auguste Sylvia was sent out in a dory to put another iron in the fish, which was struggling to get away.

STARVATION IN ALASKA.

Miner Dean Dead and Companions Ill.

Forty-three Days of Terrible Suffering.

Christian Convention at Santa Cruz Closes—American Ship on Fire.

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Aug. 4.—A story of death from starvation in the mining district was brought from here today by passengers on the Centennial, and as a result of forty-three days of unparalleled hardship, George Dean, a miner, is dead, and his two companions, Jack Houston and Joseph C. Thiers, are at the point of death. Houston will probably recover, but there is little hope that Thiers' life will be saved.

Added to the story of starvation is a horrible tale that, in their desperation, Houston and Thiers severed the thigh of their dead companion from his body and were cooking it when help arrived and saved them from practicing cannibalism.

The men had been in the Good Hope country, prospecting. June 7 they started for Nome by way of Agiakuk River. Before they reached Teller City the provisions gave out, and hunger compelled them to eat grass, birds' eggs and anything they could find.

Dean left a letter, partly written, bidding good-bye to his family, who live in Canton, O. He was a member of the American Federation of Labor, and was formerly a miner at the Yukon River boat works.

STRIKES.

OTHER POINTS REPORT.

The following telegrams were received tonight:
"SCOTTDALE (Pa.)—The determination of the Amalgamated Association to call out the organized employees of the United States Steel Corporation will have no material effect here."

"MONROVIA (Pa.)—If the general strike order is issued, it will have little effect in the Shenango Valley, further than closing the independent blast furnaces, whose product is controlled by the Bessemer Association."

"SOUNDING THE FEDERATION. TRIP TO WASHINGTON."
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Shaffer and other members of the executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers have been sounding the American Federation of Labor as to the extent to which the latter body can be depended upon in supporting the great steel strike now under way.

With this object in view, President Shaffer, Secretary Williams, B. I. Davis, M. E. Tighe and John Chapelle came to Washington, after the announcement in New York of the failure to reach an agreement with the United States Steel officials. They reached this city late last night and registered at one of the downtown hotels. Their presence in the city was known only to a few people.

They departed for Pittsburgh this forenoon. Few of either the labor leaders or business men here for results from tomorrow's conference, if one be secured. It is generally believed that the employers' Association will stand by its ultimatum. Negotiations may end at once, and the labor council and the City Front Federation may put in operation plans to make the tie-up of the water front and the wholesale district more effective.

The labor leaders have not stated what unions, if any, would be called out. Andrew Furuseth, secretary of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific, said local unions would be called out in preference to extending the strike to other cities on the coast.

The labor leaders are asking that the locked-out teamsters and the men who struck in sympathy with them get away on time at 10 o'clock in the morning, and she was followed shortly after by the Conemaugh for Noms and other members of the union. A cable left her berth and crossed the bay to the Oakland wharf, where she was taken on coal, and Australia went from the wharf, where a heavy force of

SYMPATHETIC STRIKE POSSIBLE.
INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 4.—Representatives of the steel workers of Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois are gathering here for a conference tomorrow. O. L. Garrison, of Louisville, chairman of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, who is here, is reticent as to the object of the conference. Asked if a sympathetic strike of miners is feared, he said:

LABORERS WAITING ON THE EMPLOYERS.

LABORERS WAITING ON THE EMPLOYERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The strike situation was not materially changed today. While the water front went to work, the steel district teaming was done to an amount unprecedented for a Sunday.

The labor leaders were not inactive on their part. The executive board of the City Front Federation held an informal session in the forenoon, and the Executive Committee of the San Francisco Labor Council was closed in executive session during most of the afternoon. Nothing was given out for publication, but it is known that the Labor Council people were busy with plans of an aggressive campaign to be put in operation if tomorrow negotiations fail to bring about appreciable results.

Mayor Phelan was out of the city during the day, but returned in the evening. The Mayor and the merchants who have interested themselves in trying to effect a settlement of the strike, differences will try to secure a full meeting of the directors of the Employers' Association tomorrow for further consideration of the questions at issue.

Several men were arrested during the day for assaults on non-union laborers. A few of the victims were treated at the Receiving Hospital, but none of their wounds were serious.

MOVED BIG CABLE.
TRACTION ENGINE USED.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The California Street Cable Company today successfully moved a traction engine to move a new cable which teamsters would not haul because of a strike. The cable, which weighs thirty tons, was at the California Wire Works on Bay street, and here today the like of which is seldom seen in any place of worship. It had been announced that a sermon would be preached on the subject "Theology," and this attracted to the church a number of those who dwell at "Spook Point," as the Theosophists headquarters on Point Loma is known throughout the part of the state. A hot tip had been given out that the "spookists" would come in for a roasting and the tip was good.

The sermon was not put out, but continued his discourse. The sermon and the attempt to interrupt it has caused a sensation in church circles.

FUNERAL OF F. MINTOSH.
Funeral services over the remains of F. McIntosh were held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the undertaking parlor of Orr & Hines on South Broadway. The service was held in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The remains were taken to Rosewood Cemetery for interment. The funeral was private and attended by only the immediate relatives and a few close friends of the family. Mr. McIntosh had been a resident of Los Angeles for more than fourteen years. He was a well-known plastering contractor and has been identified with building in Los Angeles ever since coming here. For the greater part of the last year he had been engaged in building work at Bakersfield. It was in Kern City that he died last Friday morning. His death was caused by heart disease.

WATER COMPANY MEETS AT FULLERTON.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON FLOATING OF STOCK.

Stockholders to vote on the question at the next annual meeting. Main Canal to be shortened—Dispute as to Reservoir Outlet.

FULLERTON, Aug. 4.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] The regular meeting of the Anaheim-Fullerton Water Company was held Saturday afternoon. The matter of floating water stock was again up on the board, but after lengthy discussion it went over without action. Attorney Melrose stated that the stockholders should be permitted to vote on the question at the annual meeting the first of next year. The understanding many years ago was that a stockholder could only irrigate one acre of land with one share of stock. His belief was that the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company. As the price of water stock in the local company is very high now many stockholders are trying to irrigate double the number of acres of land actually covered by the water stock. A communication was read from the Orange County Oil Company requesting the company to deliver water to its forty shares of stock on the next run to S. Goodwin. The board believed this application was to "float" stock for one run, and the superintendent stated that he would not deliver the water to the company's request. The board decided to transfer to Mr. Goodwin. Over three-fourths of the stockholders are opposed to shifting the stock, and say all they ask is an opportunity to vote on the question.

The engineer reported on the survey of the proposed cut-off in the canal. He stated that the canal should be shortened in three or four more places as soon as the company's finances would permit it. The work would cost about $5000.

In regard to the Yuba right of way from the proposed cut-off, there is a wide difference of opinion between the company and Mr. Yuba, from whom the right of way was purchased for $5000. The company understood that it was to have free outlet through Mr. Yuba's land to the reservoir for a general ditch, but Mr. Yuba insists that the company pipe the water, which would cost nearly $2000 more than the cement ditch. A special hearing was held on the matter.

The proposition of Walter Ermann to lease La Habra reservoir site for water works was discussed. The company is to have the first ten years and a one-tenth royalty the second ten years. The company is to have the first ten years and a one-tenth royalty the second ten years.

RAILROAD RUMORS.
WESTMINSTER, Aug. 4.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] One more railroad rumor is floating around Westminster in a manner that pre-figures activity in construction. A year or more ago the Southern Pacific was considering a matter of connecting its Newport Beach and peatland branch with the Los Alamitos road, but for some reason the proposition was suddenly dropped. With the incorporation of the Westminster and Peatland Railroad Company and the published statement that the company would endeavor to have the road completed in operation in time to handle the year's crop, the hopes of the Westminster country needs a railroad.

THE TIMES DAILY STORY

CROSS DEATH VALLEY.

BY A. C. ROWSEY.

OVER the Amargosa Valley stole the advancing light of day. Out there, where the land grows pale in the shadow of the cañons against the coming vampire of heat.

The sunbeams struck down upon the solitary cabin in Ash Gulch, and the bunch grass that grew around the house withered. There was no hope of life in the fierce heat. Yet, within the shack, was a woman who did not stir with the dawn—woman browed by nature, whose resolute face was almost masculine in its strength.

It was a queer home, one-half dug out of the living rock, the outer walls built of adobe. The interior was the solitary bed, bound with a larval, yellow, all night, she had struggled fiercely, furiously, then weakly, faintly.

With the dawn came to her the Great Thirst. When the Great Thirst is born, you see the heat great upward in palpitating waves. The blood scalds in the veins. The Great Thirst is fighting for the moisture in your brain—your sanity.

It cracked the woman's lips, and drank from them. The cracks healed, and the Great Thirst tore them wider apart. The last power, to move, even to turn her head. She strove for the power to suffer, to know. Gradually her eyes closed. Conquered! When they opened again she raved, quite mad. The power of acute sensation was gone.

In a rough climb shanty across the valley the young prospector smiled hopefully into his first-born's eyes, as he held the cup to his lips. Then he walked to the door, and the smile faded. Two weeks before Molly had left him—and the baby boy—to get the assay and record their claim. She had laughed at his fears. She knew the country by heart, and while she traveled he would dig further and further into the cup to his lips. She returned they would go to Los Angeles and stay till the great heat died down.

He glanced across the valley to the point where he knew their first home—dead wood. He loved its rough rubble walls. He had brought Molly there. He looked at the thermometer. It stood 138 in the shade. And still he held the shanty and walked to the edge of rock that held fortune for him. Then his hand closed on the handle of the door. He stepped out. He caught sight of a horseman, leading a pack burro down the narrow trail. Skirting the cañon wall, the prospector turned and looked back. He saw the shanty. Taking the little one in his arms he hurried to the brook and dipped it in the water. Then, filling his cup, he hurried back to the shanty and laid the little one on his bed. Snatching his rifle he advanced to the door.

With a muttered oath he recognized the man as Douglas, the assayer. Molly had gone to him after all, in spite of her husband's warnings. And Douglas knew of their strike.

"What's wrong?" asked the stranger, pausing at the door. "You're dead!" Douglas cowered ominously.

"Well, hearer, 'bout your end, thought you might take a notion to sell."

"I ain't selling—leastways to you," replied the prospector, significantly. "There had been bad blood between them ever since Dan Donovan's Molly had gone to him after all, in spite of her husband's warnings. And Douglas knew of their strike."
